Attaching your new Collar Tag

Congratulations on the purchase of your pet's new collar tag! It only takes a few seconds to attach it to the collar. The obvious way to do it works fine: just slide the velcro into the two wire loops on the back of the tag and then wrap it around your pet's collar.

But we've found a method that's a little more challenging but holds much tighter than the above method! It takes a minute longer but you only have to do it once so you should give it a try!
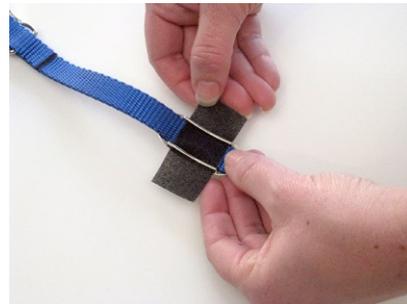

1 Lay the collar face down. Decide where you want the collar tag on the collar as you won't be able to slide it later. Center the velcro across the collar with the black side facing up.
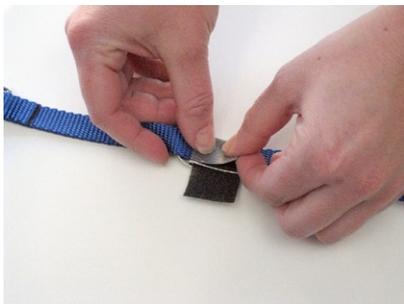

2 Lift the collar and velcro by pinching them together. Feed the top end of the velcro under the wire loop on the back of your collar tag. Just get it started; don't pull it all the way through.

3 Now, while still keeping the collar against the velcro, feed the bottom end of the velcro under the bottom wire loop.   *This is the hard part!

4 Once you have both ends started in the loops, work and wiggle the velcro ends all the way through the loops until the collar lays flat between the loops. If the velcro isn't centered, you may have to try again.

5 Fold either end down...

6 ... and then the other on top.

Done!
